Stock Market Bounds Upward As Dollar Depreciates

INDUSTRIAL AVERAGE UP TO 100 MARK

Gains Today Range Upwards to 7 Points as Repeal Shares Head List

MOTOR ISSUES SOAR

Transactions Reach Highest Volume so Far During Month; Oils Strong

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Stock transactions today reached the highest volume so far in August, gathering momentum until near the close. Prices rose to the highest levels since July 19.

The market made its high for the last two years on July 18 with the Dow-Jones Industrial average at 108.67. It fell from that level to $84.42 on July 22 in several days of sharp declines. Since then until yesterday fluctuations have been small. Yesterday the average rose 3.29 points to 95.84 and today it climbed toward the 100-mark.

Gains today ranged upward to 7 points. Repeal shares featured an expectation of early end of the 18th amendment. Oils were better on imminent acceptance by the government of a revised code. Coppers gained as producers ironed out code differences. Rails were strong despite a dip in carloadings for the week ended Aug. 5 as compared with the previous week. Utilities rallied on a favorable electricity output statement. Motors gained on sales increases. Sugars jumped ahead on prospect of supply reduction by the Cuban revolution.

The principal factor in the rise was the change in Wall Street on the outlook for the dollar. Just now the outlook, according to close observers with government connections, is that inflation will be continued to the extent of dollar devaluation.

Cotton advanced despite a high cotton estimate yesterday. It was believed the department of agriculture had erred on the upside this year just as it had erred on the downside in its early estimate last year. In the case of wheat, which rose more than 2 cents a bushel, the traders looked for crop report favorable for the market.

From the opening the stock market was firm. In the first two hours trading was double yesterday, aided by several large blocks ranging to 10,000 shares.

Steel common moved across 55 for a gain or more than a point in early trading. The steel industry

FIREMAN SUICIDE, BUT DIES AS HERO

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Louis H. Jackman, 44 year old member of the fire department, although a suicide, died a hero death early today.

For years Jackman has been donating his blood for transfusions which have saved the lives of fellow-fighters and accident victims. Recently, his widow told police, he suffered a nervous breakdown as a result of his recent blood gifts.

Unter despondency followed when his health failed to improve. Last night he sat in his closed automobile and left the motor running. He was found dead a few hours later of monoxide poisoning.

TEACHER STAFF OF SANTA ANA RE-ORGANIZED

Several Teaching Positions Re-assigned, in Elementary Schools

ON ACCOUNT of the release of several teachers, the exchange of a number of others, and the reduction of the teaching force in some quarters, the board of education, through Supt. Frank A. Henderson, has reorganized and reassigned several teaching positions in the Santa Ana elementary schools, it was learned at the school board meeting last night.

Exchanges in personnel with Fullerton, Burbank, Santa Monica and Brawley have been completed by the board in order to prevent additional teachers from attaining permanent tenure under the provisions of the state tenure law.

New Teachers

New elementary teachers and their respective assignments include Jeannette Pruet, of Burbank, who will teach at Del Norte; Mary Davis, of Burbank, to Franklin; Mrs. Marguerite Wilson, of Santa Monica, to Fremont; Margaret Lupton and Mary Hope, both of Fullerton, assigned to Hoover; Ethelyn Grainger, of Fullerton, to Lowell; Katherine Blank, of Fullerton, to John Muir; and Minnie McVey, of Brawley, to Spurgeon.

Under the reorganization plan several Santa Ana teachers have been transferred to other schools in the city. Among the changes is the transferring of Mrs. Inez McBride, from Franklin to Fremont; Florence Lazare from Hoover to Lincoln, Mrs. Donna Ward from Julia Lathrop Junior high to McKinley, and Mr. Alfred Gilmes from Lathrop to Jefferson. Gilmes replaces Berthola Barclay as principal at Jefferson. Miss Barclay will serve only as principal of Willson school for the coming term.

BATHING TRAGEDY TOLL SET AT SEVEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(UP)—A gay outing for 94 orphans turned into the season's worst bathing tragedy with the sweep of one huge wave that carried seven children to death in the sea. That toll from yesterday's beach party was set today although an all night search resulted in only one body being found.

The six missing boys were drowned and their bodies swept to sea by an undertow, coast guard officers believed. Five others, taken from the water unconscious, received treatment and it was believed they would recover.

More than two score boys were washed into the sea when a comber swept over a sand bar on which they were playing.

Guards worked so quickly picking up victims and ferrying them ashore that they could not estimate the number they brought in.

RUTH NICHOLS BACK WHEN ENGINE FAILS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Guy Brock, 43, said by police to be known as a former associate of the Hastings gang of Kansas City, was arrested here today and booked on charges of suspicion of robbery, suspicion of receiving stolen property and suspicion of being a fugitive from justice.

He was taken into custody by Dt. Lt. Frank James, who Saturday arrested Elmer Waggoner from an airplane which brought him here from Kansas City. Waggoner assertedly carried with him stolen bonds valued in excess of $80,000.

ALLEGED GANGSTER HELD BY OFFICERS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Ruth Nichols, noted New York woman pilot, returned to United Airport at 3:30 a. m. (PST) today, two hours and a half after she had left on a projected record flight to New York.

She decided to return when motor trouble developed while she was flying over the desert. She said she would renew her attempt to better Amelia Earhart Putnam's west-east record of 17 hours, 7 minutes, possibly tonight.

The loaded fuel tanks in her Lockheed plane caused her considerable difficulty in landing. She circled the field four or five times before she could bring the heavy craft down.

WEDDING DECLARED AIR RACE WINNER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(UP)—James R. Wedell was awarded the Thompson trophy, emblematic of the American air speed championship, by the contest committee of the National Aeronautical association, meeting here today.

In doing so the board denied the appeal of Roscoe Turner, who finished first in the race for the trophy, held in Los Angeles July 4.

Turner was disqualified for his failure to completely circle one of the pylons on his first trip around, and Wedell, who finished second, was declared the winner.

The NRA's action permitted employers of the industry to sign the president's agreement and secure blue eagles with the understanding that the wage-labor modifications become automatically effective.

The move came as action on the industry's code was held up due to a dispute over a price fixing provision, which is opposed by Administrator Hugh Johnson.

SALLY RAND FINED $25 FOR FAN DANCE

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Sally Rand's fan dance, a daily feature of the world's fair and a loop theater, cost her a fine of $25, levied after an embarrassed policeman testified that his emotions were aroused as he watched her nude performance.

Judge Erwin W. Hasten of women's court held a tongue in his cheek as he pronounced the fine. He explained he "wasn't interested in fining Sally," but wanted it understood that "the only human being that should be allowed to appear nude in public is a baby."

Leaning down from the bench, Judge Hasten told Sally that he saw her dance last Saturday night and believed she was a "beautiful, artistic dancer."

NRA ADMINISTRATOR WARNS MERCHANTS AGAINST PLANS TO SHORTEN STORE HOURS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson warned today that retail stores staggering employees hours or materially shortening the number of hours that stores normally stay open a week, are nullifying the purpose of the reemployment agreement.

Such action he said, "either directly or indirectly conspires to defeat the very purpose of the president's agreement." He termed the agreement "a solemn covenant" which employers signing should take care not to frustrate.

He condemned staggering hours by enforced rest periods and increasing the time for lunch without pay.

Johnson also reiterated the intent of the agreement was to increase employment and assure to those already employed and those reemployed a reasonable living wage."

MACHADO APPEALS PEOPLE TO RALLY

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)
HAVANA, Aug. 9.—(UP)—General Gerrardo Machado, fighting overwhelming odds to retain his job as president, today sought by personal appeal and radio propaganda to rally the country against Cuba.

Announcing in a firmly worded public statement that he was and would continue to be president, he asserted that political troubles were being magnified because Cuba was a small country in which great foreign capital was invested.

Information from usually reliable sources, but unconfirmed, said American Ambassador Sumner Welles had demanded Machado apply for a leave of absence by noon today on penalty of American intervention and that Machado, in refusing, had intimated broadly American intervention would be opposed, if necessary, by the army.

YOUTH ADMITS SLAYING GIRL IN SACRAMENTO

Confesses Murder Following Finding of Body in Deserted Dwelling

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 9.—(UP)—Roy Mann, 24, Roseville, coolly confessed early today he killed a pretty unidentified young woman in a fit of uncontrolled anger Sunday.

"I just went haywire and shot her," the husky youth explained with noncommittal shrug.

Even Mann didn't know the girl's name or permanent address. He called her "Pat." Authorities said they believed she resided in Lodi or Sacramento. Her age was between 22 and 24.

Murder Charge

A charge of first degree murder will be placed against Mann later in the day, Guy Johnson, deputy district attorney announced.

The girl's body was found slumped over a 60-foot well shaft in the pump building of a vacant dwelling in South Roseville. She had been shot through the back of the head with a .45 caliber revolver.

Confession came eight hours after the body was found. Mann

VANDEGRIFT FAVORS INCOME TAX VETO

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 9.—(UP)—State Finance Director Roland Vandegrift will strongly recommend veto of the personal income tax bill passed the final day of the midsummer session, he indicated today.

Governor Rolph has not yet indicated his stand on the issue. A public hearing on the income tax bill will be held tomorrow.

Vandegrift said his opposition to the measure is based on the following points:

—An income tax would drive wealthy residents to other states; it would discourage persons and industries from moving into California.

—Cost of administering the tax is out of all proportion to its revenue yield.

U. S. WILL NOT WATER REPORT INTERVENE IN SCHEDULED FOR CUBAN REVOLT COAST SESSION

Propaganda attacking Welles, marked during the night the grave development of the crisis precipitated a week ago by a strike of omnibus drivers ostensibly against high taxes.

Presumably in revenge for the slaughter of Monday when police fired on crowds before the presidential palace killing 20, four policemen were killed last night.

Three were shot down from a moving motorcar at the corner of Maece park. Major Waldo Lopez, El Castillo, district inspector of police, who was standing with them, was seriously wounded.

A fourth policeman was killed near the university.

The government seized radio station CMAF and established a two block military zone around it. Machado was expected to use it for propaganda against Ambassador Welles particularly and the idea of American intervention generally.

Anti-Welles and anti-American propaganda was broadcast from several stations last night and was reported to emanate from government sources, though the government denied its own station was involved.

Seeks Support

One unidentified broadcaster declared Welles was siding with members of opposition parties, appealed to Latin American nations for support, and urged Cubans to unite in aid of the army in event of foreign intervention.

Representatives of the chamber of deputies Liberal parliamentary committee were understood to have approved a motion, introduced Monday, to declare Ambassador Welles persona non grata and to appeal to the United States government against his activities.

Senators were understood to support the formal offered by Welles who suggested Machado's withdrawal and election of new parliamentary representatives at stated times between 1935 and 1937.

Liberal members of the chamber favored the election provision but opposed Machado's removal.

In his blunt public statement Machado said:

"I can not cede any of my constitutional prerogatives without betraying the confidence placed in me by the Cuban people and weakening the sovereignty and independence of the republic I helped to found by fighting in the war of independence."

"The troubles occurring in Cuba are similar to those occurring in other countries. They are given greater importance because we are a small country with strong foreign capital."

Organization of Santa Ana in military formation to carry out details of the National Recovery Act program, will be affected at a meeting of officers and committeemen named by George A. Rayner, secretary of the chamber of commerce named by Hugh S. Johnson as commander of the Santa Ana area, tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic building.

At the meeting tonight, a definite program as set up by the federal administrators in charge of the recovery program will be outlined for use in Santa Ana.

However, it is expected that one-third of the money will be paid back to the county by the state with part of the $20,000,000 relief bond issue voted at the last election, and one-third by the federal government, making the county stand one-third.

The state and federal relief programs have not yet started because the state bonds have not been sold, according to Welfare Director Curry, who issued the following statement to clear up the work relief situation today:

MONEY TO BE ADVANCED BY COUNTY BOARD

Stepping into the breach made by the delay in receiving state and government assistance, and pending the attempt to secure grants of federal monies for the purpose of carrying on the work relief program of Orange county, the board of supervisors late yesterday authorized Welfare Director B. V. Curry, to continue the work relief program during the current month.

The first assignments will be given late this week or Monday of next week, depending on the ability of the welfare and road department to get the program under way on projects being worked.

Complying with NRA regulations, the work program is expected to start Monday, with men working 35 hours a week, split into five seven-hour days at the same rate which has been paid in the past.

This is the second month the county, through the supervisors, has come to the relief of the program, having expended around $70,000 last month for the work relief program. A similar amount is expected to be spent this month out of the county funds.

However, it is expected that one-third of the money will be paid back to the county by the state with part of the $20,000,000 relief bond issue voted at the last election, and one-third by the federal government, making the county stand one-third.

The state and federal relief programs have not yet started because the state bonds have not been sold, according to Welfare Director Curry, who issued the following statement to clear up the work relief situation today:

Check Needs

A more rigid examination into the affairs of work relief applicants will be conducted this month than ever before. Many criticisms come to the welfare department from taxpayers as to the eligibility of persons employed. Every source of possible income will be checked, if it has not already been checked, in order to be sure that only those who need food for immediate relief are given employment. This is the rule laid down by the federal government and, of course, must be followed by the welfare department.

The general committee and officers will attempt to establish codes of fair competition, put the codes into action and see that they are maintained.

Raymer named Mrs. Alice N. Peters as lieutenant-commander of the organization, to be set up along military lines. Many other citizens named on industrial, organization and business committees will meet tonight.

Woman Recovers From Injuries

Mrs. Patricia Durian, 37, Costa Mesa, is recovering in the Orange County hospital from severe bruises and possible fractured ribs while her husband, Harry Durian, 43, Naval Reserve officer, was released from the county jail following an alleged fight early yesterday morning.

Durian was originally held on assault and battery charges, which were later changed to investigation of a felony, and then dismissed this morning by Constable William Ponting of Costa Mesa.

A. Bushman, 207 South Palm avenue, Anaheim, charged with speeding, was given a three-day suspended jail sentence in police court today.

John Martello, 24, Southgate baker, was sentenced to pay $25 or serve 12 1/2 days in the county jail yesterday by Judge Haisley. I Spence of Fullerton for reckless driving. He was arrested by Special Deputy Sheriff Bill Trapp of Fullerton and will serve the jail term.

May Prosecute

"Any applicant who is discovered to have sufficient funds for the sustenance of himself and family without the work relief program, will be relieved from employment and payment for services already rendered refused, and such cases will be referred to the district attorney for his attention under the statute which provides penalties for obtaining money under false pretenses.

"This course of action is urgently necessary because of the very large number of people who do actually need the employment and because of the apparent feeling on the part of some individuals that they are entitled to the work whether they need it as an immediate emergency measure or not.

The rule will be enforced rigidly that where there is a job in a family which brings into that family, through any one of its members, an amount equal to the amount which any member of that family would receive if assigned to the work relief program, then such family is not eligible to the work relief assistance.

Stresses Relief Theme

"In this connection may it be stated that it be stressed that the employment campaign is not a work program but a relief program, the work being supplied in lieu of direct food contributions in cases where food is needed. The fact that a man is unemployed does not entitle him to the work. He must be not only unemployed but without sustenance.

Considerable criticism is heard about the use of cars by persons upon the work relief programs. Any one proved to be using gasoline unnecessarily will likewise be relieved from the work relief program.

Appreciation must be expressed to those people who do have cars for their willingness to cooperate with the department in

TWO LA HABRA YOUTHS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Patricia Durian, 37, Costa Mesa, is recovering in the Orange County hospital from severe bruises and possible fractured ribs while her husband, Harry Durian, 43, Naval Reserve officer, was released from the county jail following an alleged fight early yesterday morning.

Durian was originally held on assault and battery charges, which were later changed to investigation of a felony, and then dismissed this morning by Constable William Ponting of Costa Mesa.

Two La Habra youths, Glenn A. Launder, 24, and Daniel Stevens, 20, were fatally injured early today when their coupe crashed head-on into a truck on the highway south of Bakersfield.

Robert Frazier, of Dinuba, driver of the truck, told authorities that Launder apparently lost control of the automobile and swerved into the larger machine.

Launder was the youngest son of Mrs. Anna C. Launder and the late J. G. Launder of La Habra. Stevens was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stevens, of La Habra Heights.

Leaving at midnight in the Launder coupe, the two young men were motoring north to enroll in the University of California at Berkeley. Launder received his third degree in the La Habra Masonic Lodge last night. He was the brother of Alvin Launder, city attorney of Fullerton. Erwin J. Launder of San Gabriel, and Nelson M. and Richard E. Launder, of La Habra. He was a graduate of Fullerton Union High school class of 1926, attended the district junior college and was a student at the northern university. On receipt of the tragic message by telephone, his mother and his two brothers, Nelson M. and Richard E. left early this morning for the north.

Stevens' parents also left early this morning. He was to enroll for his first year in the university, having graduated from Fullerton Union High school and District Junior college this year.

BUDGET ANALYSIS REPORT COMMENDS CITY COUNCIL FOR WORK IN REDUCTION

Highlights of the analysis of the Santa Ana city budget for 1933-34, calling for expenditure of $463,117, as prepared by the California Taxpayers' association, which was employed by the council to assist in preparation of the budget, will be run in a series of articles by The Register. The first of these, comprising the general statement and the section on salaries, follows:

GENERAL STATEMENT

The subject matter of this report is an analysis of the 1933-34 budget estimates, the costs, and administrative practices of the City of Santa Ana, with recommendations of economies and improvements which may be effected.

During the last week, Blee has been at the executive office of the Home Owners' Loan corporation in Los Angeles, assisting Ewell D. Moore, chief counsel for the corporation for California, in the preparation of escrow forms for use in connection with the refinancing of the present encumbrances against homes by the exchange of bonds for existing encumbrances.

In addition to offices announced yesterday, the Fullerton office has been opened at 308 North Broadway, with Dan O'Hanlon in charge.

A line of people have been passing through the office of H. M. Secrett, 414 North Main street, Santa Ana, since early morning, securing application forms and making application for loans. Completed applications in excess of $50,000 have been received.

As further directed by Butler, Blee will place blanks for use in connection with the obtaining of loans in every bank and building and loan association office throughout the county today.

rate. The auditor's preliminary estimates of 1933-34 receipts have been checked, and are believed to prevent a closely accurate statement of funds necessary to balance the budget.

The analysis of departmental costs and recommendations for further economies which follow are in summary form and do not include a large amount of statistical data and comparative information of other cities which are necessarily a part of a budget study. The object is to present briefly what the city can do to further reduce costs. It should be kept in mind that the most worthwhile and lasting economies come from within the city's own organization and are produced by careful and intelligent planning and administration. The value of many recommendations made herein does not depend so much upon the facts presented as upon the willingness of officials and employees to put the recommendations into effect. Changes in the methods of carrying out the recommendations are a recognized element of good administration, but such changes do not impair the value of the suggested economies.

SALARIES

The salary roll comprises from 57 to 60 per cent of the 1933-34 budget estimates, exclusive of the Library. It is obvious that any material reduction that is made in city expenditures must take into consideration the salaries paid and the number of positions in the city service.

The salary rates of pay as they existed in June, 1932, were reduced 10 per cent by the adoption of the 1932-33 budget. This applied generally to all positions except elective offices and a few part-time positions. The rates were again cut on March 1, 1933, by an additional 8 per cent from general salary positions and 5 per cent for police and firemen. At the same time office hours were reduced one-half hour a day, exclusive of the police and firemen.

When the city council requested departmental heads to reduce 1933-34 departmental requests by 20 per cent, still further salary rate reductions were proposed. These proposals differed in percentage amount, however, depending upon whether a department could effect savings other than in salaries, or whether the full brunt of the reduction had to fall on the salaries of essential employees. Consequently, the preliminary budget estimates submitted by department heads contain serious variances from a standard pay schedule for the city.

BUDGET ANALYSIS REPORT COMMENDS CITY COUNCIL FOR WORK IN REDUCTION

Highlights of the analysis of the Santa Ana city budget for 1933-34, calling for expenditure of $463,117, as prepared by the California Taxpayers' association, which was employed by the council to assist in preparation of the budget, will be run in a series of articles by The Register. The first of these, comprising the general statement and the section on salaries, follows:

GENERAL STATEMENT

The subject matter of this report is an analysis of the 1933-34 budget estimates, the costs, and administrative practices of the City of Santa Ana, with recommendations of economies and improvements which may be effected.

A field study has been made of each of the operating departments except the library and school district; costs and administrative practices have been analyzed on the basis of the volume of work, the extent and type of services, and comparative data of other cities where practical application of such data could be made.

The budget study has been simplified by the fact that the city has already in effect a number of economies, many of them permanent in character, which result in savings to the taxpayers. A partial list includes the following:

ECONOMIES IN EFFECT

1. The county's assessment of city property is used for tax purposes, thereby avoiding the cost of a city assessor.

2. The collection of city taxes, including special assessments, is made by the county under contractual agreement.

3. The city uses the county jail for city prisoners under a payment for service agreement with the county.

4. The county health department performs all city health services.

5. The city-owned water department has comparatively low rates, and not only pays its own operating expenses and the interest and redemption on water bonds, but provides a surplus for general city purposes.

6. Complete electrical equipment has been installed for water pumping, thereby reducing the pump operating force.

7. The cost of maintaining an outfall sewer is shared with other cities through a special district organization.

8. Purchasing of supplies and equipment is centralized.

9. There is a central garage for maintenance and storage of motor vehicle equipment.

10. The city is not committed to any heavy expense for non-essential services.

11. Adequate cash balances are carried, thereby eliminating the necessity of registering warrants.

12. The tax demand has been reduced.

13. Further economies may be expected when state revenues accrue for construction and maintenance of arterial city streets.

On the opposite side of the picture the city is handicapped.

ped by a lack of a city character and by having too many elective officers. The city is organized under the general laws of the state as a city of the fifth class; it is the largest city in the state not functioning under a freeholder's charter.

Since March 10, 1933, the city has had no city hall. The use of rented quarters for the present, at least, will involve no greater expense than the cost of operation of the old city hall. Eventually, a new city hall will have to be built. Plans are already being prepared to provide the city with proper housing of its departments without incurring undue tax demands or burdening the city with an expensive bond issue. If the city is to maintain its excellent record of tax economies, such plans merit the serious consideration of every citizen.

COMMANDS COUNCIL

The city council is to be commanded for its aggressive efforts to reduce the costs of city government and the tax burden of the property owner. A goal of $100,000 reduction in budget appropriations for 1933-34 has been set and, on the basis of preliminary budget requests, together with recommendations made in this report, this goal should be successfully reached.

Total city expenditures show substantial reductions each year over the four-year period. The preliminary estimates for 1933-34 are 40 per cent less than actual expenditures in 1930-31, a record which few cities can equal. An examination of the items of expenditure reveals that reductions have been general throughout the city services and have not been made by severely slashing a few services. For 1933-34, substantial economies will be produced in the water, police, fire and street departments; an outlay expenditure for the museum will not be required, and miscellaneous expenditures will show a large decrease. These items alone can make up more than 80 per cent of the anticipated savings. Against the reductions made, necessary increases in a few items of expenditure are nominal.

It is estimated that the valuations of property for tax purposes will be 10 to 12 per cent less for 1933-34 than they were for 1932-33. A greater percentage allowance for tax delinquencies must be allowed. Receipts other than taxes are estimated to fall off $8000 to $10,000 during 1933-34. All of these factors will affect the ultimate tax rate. The auditor's preliminary estimates of 1933-34 receipts have been checked, and are believed to be accurate. Pay for like work is an accepted policy in government employment, when each department fixes its own pay schedule, standardization of salaries disappears. In view of the previous fairly drastic reductions in pay, it is more equitable to standardize and stabilize salaries on some basis which the city can afford to pay. To this end, certain brief studies of salaries were made and a suggested schedule was presented to the city council which incorporated certain principles of salary standardization. The proposals were tentative only, as it has been recognized that the time limits of this study did not permit a thorough personal survey. The council has used this suggested schedule for the most part in the establishment of salary rates for the new fiscal year.

On the whole, the rates fixed are low. It should be recognized that the schedule has been based on existing conditions and what the city can afford to pay. Not all inequities have been adjusted. It is recommended that the council should give consideration to (1) adjustments which should be made to eliminate existing inequities as they are made apparent; and (2) an increase in the entire schedule as soon as financial conditions permit.

The salary roll comprises from 57 to 60 per cent of the 1933-34 budget estimates exclusive of the library. It is obvious that any material reduction that is made in city expenditures must take into consideration the salaries paid and the number of positions in the city service.

Consequently, the preliminary budget estimates submitted by department heads contain serious variances from a standard pay schedule for the city.

Basis for Stabilization
For the sake of the morale of the city employees and as a matter of equity, the proposed salary rates could not be approved. Like pay for like work is an accepted policy in government employment, when each department fixes its own pay schedule, standardization of salaries disappears. In view of the previous fairly drastic reductions in pay, it is more equitable to standardize and stabilize salaries on some basis which the city can afford to pay. To this end, certain brief studies of salaries were made and a suggested schedule was presented to the city council which incorporated certain principles of salary standardization. STRONG CAST IN FILM AT WALKER

A dashing, daredevil aviator, a staid British statesman, a conservative wife and a modern daughter are competently portrayed in a realistic, convincing fashion in a dramatic presentation of an emotional real life dilemma in "Christopher Strong," which opens at Walker's State theater today, with Katherine Hepburn, Colin Clive and Billie Burke.

Katherine Hepburn is convincing, realistic and engaging.

"Christopher Strong" is first-run in Santa Ana.

The other picture on the double bill is "Breach of Promise," starring Chester Morris and Mae Clark.

The summer picnic of former lowans will be held in Bixby park, Long Beach Saturday, August 12. President Robert Brennan and his active committee men will have every detail perfected and will plan to care for more than 100,000 Hawkeyes from all over the western states.

BAPTISTS PLAN FIVE LECTURES IN SEPTEMBER

LA HABRA, Aug. 9.—The Rev. Walter E. will be delivered at 11 a.m. September 10 at the Sunday morning services of the church.

Earl Enyart reported on the jail and hospital services conducted the past month by the young people of the church. He announced that a group of young people will conduct a service tonight in the chapel of the county hospital for the patients. Fred Jordan, son of the pastor, the Rev. T. C. Jordan, will lead the services.

In the financial report, Mrs. T. C. Jordan reported that the church debt on its building is now cleared. U. stated that the latter organization has ordered new literature.

ON THE STROKE OF NOON

APRIL 22, 1889. For weeks the homesteaders have been gathering. And today, twelve thousand strong, they line the border... hungrily eyeing the broad acres of the Oklahoma District.

As the morning advances, the soldiers stationed along the boundary find it hard to keep the impatient multitude in check. Then, on the stroke of noon, an officer raises his pistol. A shot rings out across the plains. The vast human tide surges forward. The rush for the land is on!

The Rush for Real Estate

Less spectacular perhaps, but more far reaching, have been the nationwide "land rushes" that have followed each business depression of the past. For at the signal of rising prices and better times, investors and home seekers from coast to coast have always swept forward in quest of good real estate.

The reason is not far to seek. To the investor the prospect of rising prices means that his capital, if kept in cash, must steadily dwindle in purchasing power. The logical thing for him to do is to turn his capital into tangible property. And what form of property is as tangible as good real estate?

Similar logic applies to the home seeker. But other considerations, too, urge him forward. At the beginning of a period of recovery, real estate prices are still below normal.

PACIFIC STATES SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY EST'D 1889

The significance of this trend to those who now hold Pacific States Savings certificates is obvious. Underlying their dollars is real estate security, based mainly on desirable California urban or suburban homes. Throughout the darkest days of adversity, this security continued to produce better than average interest. And the following figures bear witness to the sound way in which real estate benefits through better times: During April, May and June, Pacific States Savings sold, without loss to the institution, 424 of its foreclosed properties at a total selling price of $1,568,645.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind the News —

WASHINGTON
By George Durne

HANDWRITINGS

Administration weather forecasters are getting their storm coats out against the first week in October.

That is when the American Legion holds its annual convention this year in Chicago, seat of a Century of Progress.

Backstage mutterings have given the Roosevelt wire-pullers a distinct idea. The New Deal Special is apt to run into the first big log on its tracks at this junction.

Those surrounding the President have known for some time that the Republicans were going to make an issue—if possible—out of the administration's Economy Act which cut the living daylight out of payments to war veterans.

The wall is covered with handwriting that would direct one to the Legion convention to see the start of the show. An issue of national proportions for next year's Congressional elections is the ultimate goal.

STYMIE

It would be foolish to think the White House is going to be caught napping. Well directed publicity from administration quarters for several days is intended to stymie any soldier uprising.

There is considerable reason to believe President Roosevelt might undertake a personal appearance before the American Legion if the situation doesn't cool off.

He has a good excuse. He's been promising to attend the World's Fair ever since it opened.

When Herbert Hoover was president and the Legion was meeting in Detroit the Republicans were trying to block the bonus. Mr. Hoover rushed out to the Michigan city and made himself a 45-minute stay and a 15-minute speech. He partly succeeded but didn't get such a good reception.

Party leaders feel that F. D. R. is in a far better strategic position to battle the vets face to face on the proposition of their allowance for war injuries, real or fancied.

Today the country at large is standing behind the Executive Mansion because it's afraid to stand anywhere else.

PROGRAM
Legionnaires in a position to know say privately that the rank and file will try to stir up a showdown at Chicago. They want two things:

1. Immediate repeal of the Economy Act which cut some $300,000,000 from their annual payments.

2. Amendment of the Legion's constitution so as to permit the organization to participate openly and actively in national politics with a view to "electing friends and defeating enemies."

Leaders admit the prospect of a close fight on the first proposal at least.

POLITICS

As matters are shaping up it looks like a Democratic-Republican fight for selection of a new National Commander.

Col. Louis Johnson, present Legion head and an active West Virginia Democrat, is being accused by many members of unduly playing the administration's game at their expense. It is understood that the so-called liberals are looking for a Republican as their candidate in October. The idea is he can't be smothered by the Roosevelt forces.

They count on a lot of Democratic support within the Legion because they feel personal indignation will blanket national political ties.

Legion dopesters had expected the retiring commander would support Col. Monroe Johnson, of S. C. The latter recently has been placed in an important regional post with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, however. This may bear on his availability.

In any event the fight will be paradoxical. Democrats and Republicans will be fighting for principles they used to oppose.

Party leaders feel that F. D. R. is in a far better strategic position to battle the vets face to face on the proposition of their allowance for war injuries, real or fancied.

Today the country at large is standing behind the Executive Mansion because it's afraid to stand anywhere else.

REFUNDING
A few fortunate corporations have found a way out of the refunding maze. Banks are willing to make loans against almost any collateral which can be rediscounted at the Federal Reserve.

Certain types of inventory loans come in this category. Therefore it is possible for some companies to and use this and other cash to pay off maturing obligations.

Some banks expect to make a profitable which involves good profits and no risks.

Of course it may take fancy bookkeeping to bring about the desired result. But it can be done.

In fact it has been done in one important case already.

OPEN MARKET

important in expanding credit as

A Congressional investigation was ordered but when Cannon undertook to name the House members of the Committee George W. Norris (now Senator) led a fight that forced the House itself to name them. When a friend asked a Congressional secretary why he didn't sleep in his air-cooled office in the new Senate Building during the hot spell, he replied, "It can't be done. They shut the system off nights to prevent it."

CREDIT
The R. F. C.'s offer to buy the preferred stock of sound banks in order to permit them to expand commercial credit met a chilly reception here. The New York banks still swear they have plenty of money to lend but that no one whose credit is any good wants to borrow.

This seems to be true of the corporations which have best weathered the storm. Most of them have enough cash on hand to operate for months to come. Those which do need to borrow cannot pass the rigid tests which the banks still apply.

However, New York does believe Jesse Jones' plan will help the situation in the Middle and Far West.

Reports here indicate that the interior banks contracted credit sharply when commodity prices slumped a few weeks ago. Any credit expansion plan will have to overcome their unwillingness to take the remotest chance on getting stuck with a fresh crop of frozen assets.

DEBT

Informed New Yorkers are a trifle uneasy about the future effect of our twenty-one billion dollar public debt. More than half of it is owned to Federal Reserve and commercial banks. This tremendous frozen asset—added to the destruction of capital growth due to graduated income and inheritance taxes—may have a serious effect on credit resources.

They ask what we shall use for capital when times are good again and business expands.

BAPTISTS PLAN FIVE LECTURES IN SEPTEMBER

LA HABRA, Aug. 9.—The Rev. Walter E. Woodbury, field secretary of the Southern California Baptist convention, will give lectures on "Stewardship and Tithing" at La Habra Temple Baptist church for the benefit of its members and friends, it was announced Monday evening at the monthly business session of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Woodbury will lecture September 6 and 7 at two services each day, one at 2 p.m. and one at 7:30 p.m. The third will be delivered at 11 a.m. September 10 at the Sunday morning services of the church.

Earl Enayart reported on the jail and hospital services conducted the past month by the young people of the church. He announced that a group of young people will conduct a service to-night in the chapel of the county hospital for the patients. Fred Jordan, son of the pastor, the Rev. T. C. Jordan, will lead the services.

In the financial report, Mrs. T. C. Jordan reported that the church debt on its building is now cleared. Paul Thornton, Legion holds its annual convention this year in Chicago, seat of A Century of Progress.

HANDWRITINGS

Administration weather forecasters are getting their storm coats out against the first week in October.

That is when the American Legion holds its annual convention—an average attendance of 192 pupils during the Sunday of July. H. G. Shirey in his report on the choir and B. Y. P. U. stated that the latter organization has ordered new literature.

standing behind the Executive Mansion because it's afraid to stand anywhere else.

PROGRAM
Legionnaires in a position to know say privately that the rank and file will try to stir up a showdown at Chicago. They want two things:

1. Immediate repeal of the Economy Act which cut some $300,000,000 from their annual payments.

2. Amendment of the Legion's constitution so as to permit the organization to participate openly and actively in national politics with a view to "electing friends and defeating enemies."

Leaders admit the prospect of a close fight on the first proposal at least.

He has a good excuse. He's been promising to attend the World's Fair ever since it opened.

When Herbert Hoover was president and the Legion was meeting in Detroit the Republicans were trying to block the bonus. Mr. Hoover rushed out to the Michigan city and made himself a 45-minute stay and a 15-minute speech. He partly succeeded but didn't get such a good reception.

Party leaders feel that F. D. R. is in a far better strategic position to battle the veto face to face on the proposition of their allowance for war injuries, real or fancied.

ON THE STROKE OF NOON

APRIL 22, 1889. For weeks the homesteaders have been gathering. And today, twelve thousand strong, they line the border... hungrily eyeing the broad acres of the Oklahoma District.

As the morning advances, the soldiers stationed along the boundary find it hard to keep the impatient multitude in check. Then, on the stroke of noon, an officer raises his pistol. A shot rings out across the plains. The vast human tide surges forward. The rush for the land is on!

The Rush for Real Estate

Less spectacular perhaps, but more far reaching, have been the nationwide "land rushes" that have followed each business depression of the past. For at the signal of rising prices and better times, investors and home seekers from coast to coast have always swept forward in quest of good real estate.

The reason is not far to seek. To the investor the prospect of rising prices means that his capital, if kept in cash, must steadily dwindle in purchasing power. The logical thing for him to do is to turn his capital into tangible property. And what form of property is as tangible as good real estate?

Similar logic applies to the home seeker. But other considerations, too, urge him forward. At the beginning of a period of recovery, real estate prices are still below normal.

PACIFIC STATES SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY EST'D 1889

115 W. FOURTH STREET... SANTA ANA
W. L. Copeland, Manager

At the same time, the acceleration of business and industry adds to the home seeker's personal income. And he finds himself better able to buy a home of his own.

Thus improved general conditions have consistently brought an improved demand for good real estate among both investors and home seekers. And there are indications that the same causes are producing the same effects today.

The past three months have witnessed widespread gains in business activity, prices and payrolls. And already, real estate firms report a growing number of inquiries from buyers anxious to acquire good property while prices are still close to deflation levels.

To Our Present Investors

The significance of this trend to those who now hold Pacific States Savings certificates is obvious. Underlying their dollars is real estate security, based mainly on desirable California urban or suburban homes. Throughout the darkest days of adversity, this security continued to produce better than average interest. And the following figures bear witness to the sound way in which real estate benefits through better times: During April, May and June,

Pacific States Savings sold, without loss to the institution, 424 of its foreclosed properties at a total selling price of $1,568,645.

NEW YORK
By James McMullan

BANKS

If you look at the published figures you might get the impression that the New York banks are taking a beating on deposits. The last three weeks alone show a decline of about $167,000,000.

But things are not always what they seem. The banks have no particular cause to worry. They are just gracefully deflating their gorgeous June 30th statements.

The padding of deposits before statement days is an old banking custom where competition is keen. This June it was carried further than usual. One large New York bank was especially anxious to make a strong showing and made elaborate preparations. The other banks got wind of it and said they'd be darned if that institution was going to get ahead of them. So they went and did likewise. It was all good clean fun and not a soul was hurt.

The way it works is this: A bank goes to its biggest customers and asks them if they would accept a nice fat loan of perhaps a few millions for fifteen or thirty or sixty days. It is understood that the customer is not to use the money but simply to leave it on deposit. The customers are usually willing to play. They know they might want the bank to do them a favor some day.

This brings about an immediate expansion of both loans and deposits and the bank can present a statement to show it is bigger and better than ever. After statement day the loans are liquidated out of the extra deposits as they come due and both are canceled.

There's nothing nefarious about the practice. The best banks do it. The funny thing is that the weekly Clearing House reports show plainly that average deposits are way below those published in statements. But the statements are broadcast and the reports are never seen outside New York. So

The longer our delegates to the London Economic Conference are back, the more certain it seems the assembly is deadlier than a door nail.

As those who have returned re-acclimate themselves they admit with increasing freedom there is little chance the Conference will reconvene in the fall—or any time else.

They say whatever agreements this Nation may desire in the way of tariff, currency, et cetera, will be undertaken through regular diplomatic channels.

They hint that Uncle Sam's manner of running the recent meeting to his liking left too many sore spots abroad to venture a repetition in the near future.

GARDENING

Before Secretary of War Dern went West some time ago he left word with his secretary he wanted his lawn cut and put in order.

Dern's secretary relayed the order to the War Chief's chauffeur and the latter took steps to have it done.

Equipment manned by men in khaki rolled up to the Dern home just the other day and went to work. On a wagon which came along were the big painted initials, "G. C. C."

Someone called a Washington paper and reported that the Secretary of War was having his gardening done by members of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The paper rushed a photograph out and took pictures of the men and their equipment. Then the War Department was queried "How come?"

There was a hurried investigation. It developed the men were soldiers from Fort Myer and not youngsters from the Forest Army. Just how the C. C. C. wagon got in the picture is still a mystery. GHQ called the paper and said please don't print.

Anyway it ceased to be news and wasn't printed.

HOOKS and SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

One of those tennis players you haven't been hearing much about this year will be the next singles champion of the United States... according to Ellsworth Vines.... He's Lester Stoecken... and he climbed from ranking No. 15 player in 1931 to No. 6 in 1932.... That bout Sharkey has with King Levinsky Sept. 12 makes us wonder what happened to that firm resolution of his to quit the game in the "unexpected" event of being beaten by Carnera.... The Cubs are missing that bat of Riggs Stephenson, lost when a hungry malaria bug bit the big outfielder.... But Stevie is recovering and will be ready to go back into the lineup soon.... which should add no little to Chicago's pennant threat.

HOW ABOUT IT, FDR?

The National Recovery Act will not be complete until a code for college football players is adopted. Many oppressed workers have already been aided, but real recovery cannot come until something is done for the ground down high-school graduate who goes to dear old Swish to play football for a pittance.

It isn't that the boys are underpaid. Usually they do very well for themselves, indeed. But sometimes the working conditions are something frightful.

For instance word reaches us of a fast halfback of last season who was actually compelled to check in every day at his job of fourth assistant janitor in the astronomical laboratory. The pay of $300 a month was regarded as being all right, but it was felt that to require his physical presence every day on the site of his job was an unwarranted interference in the constitutional rights of a good half-back.

AIN'T IT A PITY?

Still another sad case reported is that of the defensive fullback who suffered severe mental shock at the end of his first month at old Illinois. He was presented with a curious slip of paper from the dean's office which indicated that he was deficient in trigonometry, French, modern European history, Greek and Biblical literature.

He went to the coach and plaintively objected that none of the skull practice sessions in the gym had touched on these subjects, nor had the coach's blue-vitrol and gun-court lectures on the practice field included them. When the coach explained that these were academic studies in which he was expected to take nominal interest, the poor fellow swooned.

HERE'S A CODE

Now these are only typical examples of the sweatshop methods used by the great universities in exploiting honest gridiron labor. Something ought to be done about it. A code to protect these poor fellows could include the following provisions:

1. No work, beyond the cashing of pay checks, to be required of members of the regular squad who are "on salary." It is believed that the indorsing of checks gives sufficient practice in writing, literature and business administration to justify a degree.

2. No player on a winning team to receive a grade lower than "A" in any study and no player on a team not doing so well to get less than a passing mark. This provision would insure strong efforts to get high marks and preserve the academic standing of the university.

Other rules could be formulated as this code progressed in conference. The rights of college football players must be preserved!

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Ellsworth Vines' alibi for his Wimbledon and Davis Cup defeats is that tour of Australia and New Zealand he, Allison and Van Ryn took last winter.... and Ellsworth says he'd turn pro for fifty grand.

It seems as if the Old Dazzler is all washed up.... and that his last year will be the present one with the Cards.... Vance has started only three games and had a few relief assignments.... old rockin' chair's got him.... If Burleigh Grimes hadn't caught on with the Cards after the Cubs released him, Red Faber would have been the only spitball artist left in the game.... It costs around $900 to feed the riders in a modern six-day bike grind.

NORTON'S HIT IN 9TH BREAKS UP SLAB DUEL

Santa Ana today reluctantly relinquished its hopes for the National Night league baseball championship.

Defeated by Anaheim, 2-1, in a brilliant pitcher's battle at Anaheim last night, the Stars fell three full games behind Huntington Beach. Observers agreed this handicap leaves Santa Ana strictly behind the eight-ball.

Anaheim won in the last of the ninth inning when young Wilbur Stinchfield, Santa Ana's schoolboy pitcher, weakened after performing brilliantly up to the crucial moment. Stinchfield stopped the champions with five scattered hits until the ninth when Charley Zabilla's double, Randolph Bell's infield single and Billy Norton's single through the box broke up the last 1933 contest between the most ancient of night baseball rivals.

The decisive blows came in rapid succession, and kept Anaheim struggling along in the pennant dash—just as they definitely eliminated Santa Ana.

Zabilla Anaheim's Hero

Zabilla, hero of the Valentines' victory, blasted a robust homer over Ballard in center field in the fourth inning, so Ballard was playing deep for him when Zabilla came up again. Zabilla's hit, an ordinary single, was stretched to two bases by good baserunning. Bell bounded safely to Shorstop Hill. Zabilla stopped at third and sprinted home with the winning tally when Norton delivered his first bingle of the evening—and his first hit in the last three games. It was a clean drive through the pitcher's box past second and into center field.

Al Bushman pitched for Anaheim and did well in the pinches, which were not many. The Stars threatened mildly two or three times but his only genuine trouble developed in the fourth when a fine one-handed catch by Outfielder Bell robbed "Chub" Sears of a sure homer and Santa Ana of a run. Ballard opened the innings with a single and took second on a passed ball. Sears whistled Bell going far back on the grass to stab the ball over his shoulder with his back to the playing field. The drive was so long that Ballard scored all the way from second after the catch.

Home Run Ties Score

Anaheim tied the score in its half, Zabilla poling a screaming contribution far over Ballard.

Santa Ana had a chance to move out in front in its half of the ninth when, with one down, Ballard dumped a double to right. He took third on Preble's out, Bushman to Higgins, but died there when Sears lofted to McNaib in short right. The Stars left two runners stranded in the first when Denney singled to center, went to second on a passed ball and stopped at third on Ed Daley's infield single, after Hill and Young popped out. Ballard fouled to Higgins for the third out.

Anaheim threatened only in the third when McNaib tripled to left-center with two away. Haseerot grounded sharply to Third Baseman Young who knocked the ball down with one hand and threw Haseerot out by half-a-strike on a nice defensive play.

Until the ninth, McNaib was the lone Anaheim player to pass second, excepting Zabilla on his homer.

Doesn't Like Chicken

"I am nuts about pie, and a juicy steak comes in handy now and then."

"Unlike most people of my race, I don't care so much for chicken and I wouldn't go out of my way for a piece of watermelon. But pie and steak—that's different."

Owens denied reports that he had decided definitely to enter Ohio State university this fall.

When he stopped here, he was fresh from a visit to Indiana university as a guest of Jesse Owens, Negro football and track star at the Hoosier school.

Roy Hargis, Torrance's second-string pitcher, started for the Terriers and last less than two innings. Louie Neva came in after Whittier had scored three times but was no more effective than Hargis, his nine walks keeping Whittier in the ball game until their spirited rally.

The Poets had a 5-0 lead until the fifth when Torrance scored twice. Joe Storti's homer, with one on, started a four-run attack that put Torrance ahead, 6-5, in the sixth. Whittier forged again in its half, 7-6. Hal Ferry rapided his thirteenth homer of the year with two aboard in the seventh, giving impetus to a four-run rally that sent Torrance out in front again, 10-7. But Neva blew up in the last of the inning and five Whittier runs pattered across the plate. Torrance made its final run in the ninth.

Councilmen Reduce City Rate From $2 To $1.88

$14,800 PAID BY BOARD ON WATER BONDS

La Habra Women Named To Operate School Cafeteria

FULLERTON, Aug. 9.—Mrs. C. G. Schuspbach, of La Habra, will be manager of the Fullerton Union High school and District Junior college cafeteria this coming school term, with Mrs. E. R. Berry, also of La Habra, as assistant manager.

FULLERTON, Aug. 9.—In spite of a reduced valuation of property from $11,400 to $10,220,000, Fullerton city councilmen last night reduced the tax rate 12 cents, making a total savings of approximately $8,000 to the taxpayers of the city. The rate was reduced from $2 to $1.88. The city budget will be set later.

First reading of the ordinance setting the tax rate was given at the special session. The savings anticipated are unusually large, considering especially the greatly reduced valuation councilmen said.

The first reading was set early so that the county officials who are to do the collecting, may get the work done with greatest saving of time. The final reading of the ordinance will be next Tuesday at special session.

Approximately $14,800 was transferred from the water fund of the municipal plant to the city treasury to pay on the water bonds.

PRINCIPALS IN SHOOTING FILE DIVORCE SUIT

Domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Goforth were climaxed today with the filing of a divorce suit by Mrs. Lola B. Goforth against her husband.

Mrs. Goforth was released from the county jail August 3 where she had been incarcerated after shooting her husband, Buena Park dairyman, wounding him in the neck. He was taken to the Orange county hospital, where he was treated for his wound and where he was held under a charge of investigation of assault with a deadly weapon as a result of an alleged attack on his wife with a frying pan.

His shooting and the subsequent quarrel were the result of domestic trouble over a period of months, it was said.

The couple was married in Riverside in December, 1924, and separated on August 2, the time of the shooting. The complaint filed charged that Goforth had been cruel and inhuman to his wife, who had been ill for two years.

He was surly and sarcastic and made disparaging remarks about his wife, it was charged, and he stayed away all night at times, later telling his wife he had been riding with other women, the complaint recited.

The complaint states that on August 2 he became angry when she awoke him to enquire about a business matter after he had been away all night, and hit her with a frying pan.

Six cartons of cigarettes, six boxes of gum, one box of candy and one-half box of mixed cigars, the whole valued at $15, were taken by the suspect.

ASK $11,650 OF SAFE METHODS MAN ON TRIAL FOOD CANNING IN DEATH CASE TO BE SHOWN

Troubles of Mike V. Robinson, El Centro truck driver who is facing a charge of manslaughter in superior court in connection with the death of H. L. Williams of El Segundo in a traffic accident, mounted today with the filing of a damage action against him.

John C. Perrine and Lenora C. Perrine filed a damage action against Robinson in superior court, asking for $1000 damages to Perrine, $10,000 for Mrs. Perrine and $650 for damage and loss of use of the car said to have been demolished in the same accident in which Williams was killed.

The suit also names Cleve L. Perrine and his wife, Lenora, of El Centro, which adjoins the station, and a 30-day suspended sentence in police court with the provision that he does not touch liquor for six months.

Owing to the danger from botulism in preserving the non-acid vegetables, steam pressure must be used to insure safety, according to the home economics specialists with the University of California. The methods to be demonstrated embody the latest and most efficient method of home preservation. All women who are interested are invited to attend and bring with them one preserving jar. The corn and beans will be furnished by the home department.

Botulism is food poisoning caused by bacteria belonging to the same family as the tetanus or lock-jaw group, and is more prevalent in California and the Southwest than in other parts of the United States, and the university has therefore been very vigorous in denouncing common methods of preserving non-acid vegetables.

In addition to the demonstration, bulletins dealing with the home preservation of foods may be obtained free upon request to the farm advisor's office.

A suit to collect $2000 attorney fees was started in superior court yesterday when Genevieve Heinz filed suit against L. R. Noble and H. G. Meiser, owners of a vineyard in Kern county. The complaint alleges that the money was owed to William Heinz, who turned over the account over to Genevieve Heinz.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE ON 4TH. MAIN BUILDING

Work is progressing according to schedule on the new French building to be occupied by the Montgomery Ward company and it is announced that completion will be in the very near future.

The staging on the main floor is being taken down and preparations are under way to lay the flooring within the next day or so while the two top floors are practically finished at present.

Plastering on the first three floors is completed as well as the interior trim on the two top floors. Construction program calls for finishing of the tower this week with all stone and cement work to be done. The tower will give a decided decorative touch to the building, rearing 7½ feet above the sidewalk and 19½ feet above the top of the firewall.

Work on the display windows is now going on and the ventilation system has already been installed. This will insure a constant changing of air throughout the building at all times.

County Aid Denied To Beach Citizens

The board of supervisors yesterday declined to aid the Sleepy Hollow district in Laguna Beach by relieving the district of improvement tax burdens. Taxpayers had asked for an allocation from the gasoline tax fund.

Jack Riddle, 37, 1831 West Eighth street, Santa Ana, charged with drunkenness, has been committed for 30 days in the county jail by Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Richard O. Farrell, arrested for possession of intoxicating liquor after officers raided his home at 2005 South Main street has pleaded not guilty in police court, starting at 9 a. m., Friday, August 11, according to Erie E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor.

Patrick O'Malley, charged with drunkenness, has been given a 30-day suspended sentence in police court with the provision that he does not touch liquor for six months.

W. F. Gilliland, arrested for drunkenness and disturbing the peace at Sunset Beach, had charges dismissed when he appeared before Judge Chris P. Pann in justice court.

A suit to collect $2000 attorney fees was started in superior court yesterday when Genevieve Heinz filed suit against L. R. Noble and H. G. Meiser, owners of a vineyard in Kern county. SCHOOL BOARD HIRES NEW TEACHER; PLANS PAY FOR TEACHERS WHILE ON LEAVE

Arthur Terrill of Fullerton has been added to the faculty of Santa Ana Junior college and will teach a class in surveying during the coming term, the board of education voted last night.

The new instructor will receive $500 for his 1933-34 services, which will consist of handling the surveying division of the science department. Between 30 and 40 students usually sign for this course.

Terrill was highly recommended by D. K. Hammond, president of the junior college; and J. Russell Bruff, head of the science department.

Sabbatical leave was granted Miss Ruth Gordon of Lathrop Junior high and Miss Mary Allen of Lincoln grammar school, and a financial arrangement made by the board whereby these teachers will participate in a refunding plan outlined by Superintendent Frank A. Henderson. The plan is that the teacher who returns from a leave of absence, during which she has attended university or college under the direction of the board of education, is granted a certain amount of refund which is paid to her in monthly installments during the first year or first two years of her service after her return. The compensation to the teacher on sabbatical leave is the difference between the salary of the employee on leave and the salary of a substitute teacher.

Miss Gordon plans to attend Yale university next year, while Miss Allen is considering a course at Broad Oaks in Pasadena. W. Maxwell Burke of the board moved that $456, the difference in Miss Gordon's salary and that of a substitute, be paid the two teachers on leave in 20 monthly installments after their return to the Santa Ana system. The compensation is granted provided the teachers resume their respective duties here.

According to Superintendent Henderson, sabbatical leave spreads employment and at the same time permits those on leave to better equip themselves and to become more valuable to the entire educational system.

The names of the candidates will be mailed on ballot to the membership. The new directors will serve for six months. Four of the directors elected last February will continue in office until February 1934.

Young People Exchange
Their Wedding Vows
At Chapel RitesMid-summer Meetings
Enjoyed by Gold
Star Mothers

Charming in all its details of flowers and ceremonial, was the wedding yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, of Miss Lois Bell, lovely young daughter of Mrs. Eva Bell, 306 Cypress avenue, and Walter Elbert Philip of Los Angeles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Philip of Denver, Colo.

The chapel of the First Christian church was chosen as the bridal scene, and was embellished with many palms against whose deep green glowed the snow of Shasta daisies and the rosy tones of many pink gladioli arranged in graceful baskets.

Preceding the nuptial hour was a short musical interval during which Miss Dale Hawley sang "At Dawnning" by Charles Wakefield Cadman, and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Mrs. Blanche Hackleton was her accompanist, and later played softly during an informal reception hour, choosing such appropriate numbers as "True Love" and other familiar love songs.

Miss Mildred Pearson played Loehring's Wedding March for the advance of the bridal party to the altar where the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the church, awaited.

The bride, girlishly lovely in an ensemble costume of blue and gray fashioned with a short cape effect, carried an arm cluster of Talisman roses and sweet peas. Her smart little hat, slippers, and all dress accessories were in gray to emphasize that color note in the pretty frock, whose every stitch had been set lovingly by her mother, Mrs. Bell.

Mrs. Lewis Williams as honor matron, wore a pretty ensemble costume in gray and carried sweet peas. Mr. Williams assisted Mr. Philip as best man, and completing the bridal group were two charming child attendants, Little Miss Patsy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williams, as flower girl, and Master Billy Hagthorpe as ring bearer. Patsy wore a boffant frock of pale pink lace, and Billy wore a little white suit.

Following the wedding vows the new Mr. and Mrs. Philip remained at the chapel to receive the felicitations of the guests and then repaired to the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Leslie Pearson, 1029 West Second street, where a more formal reception was held in their honor, with Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Homer Welch receiving with Mrs. Pearson. All three were gowned in graceful, summery costumes. Mrs. Bell in shades of roses crepe, Mrs. Pearson in flowered organdy, and Mrs. Welch in pale blue. Corsage clusters of sweet peas completed the effectiveness of their appearance.

Many flowers used throughout the home contributed to the charm of the occasion, and little pompon dahlias were especially effective in the dining room where refreshments, including delicious angelfood cake, were served.

The young couple left shortly for Los Angeles where they will make their home and where Mr. Philip is employed with the telephone exchange of that city. Prior to his coming to California, he had taught in the city schools of Douglas, Wyo. for two years. His bride graduated from high school in Falbun, Neb., and had her junior college work in Santa Ana.

It was announced that a member of Sedgwick, G.A.R. Comrade Joseph A. Wilkes, will have a birthday anniversary August 12.

THE TINYMITES

The Tinymites who stepped inside the whale's mouth, when 'twas opened wide, were scared, but Shrimpy told them, "You're as safe as safe can be."

The next thing that the Tinyties knew, the whale swam off. "Well follow you," cried Shrimpy. "And we'll meet you at the playground of the sea."

Wee Doty clung to Goldy's hand, while Duncy shouted, "This is grand." Then they were carried out of sight. It was a thrilling ride.

"Gee, are they really safe and sound?" asked Scouty, as he looked around. Said Shrimpy, "That's the safest thing that they have ever tried."

Then Coppy asked, "Well, how are we to reach the playground of the sea?" Just let me think," said Shrimpy. "I will find a dandy way. Upon a turtle you could go, but turtles always seem so slow. Just then wee Windy heard a splash and loudly shouted, "Hey!"

"What was that very strange noise? Hark!" "Don't worry, lad, it's just a shark," said Shrimpy. "Look up at those rocks and you can see it there."

The shark splashed madly. My, 'twas strong. Then Scouty said, "There's something wrong. At least, it seems to me the shark is having quite a scare."

"Come on, lads, we will soon find out just what the splashin's all about," said Shrimpy, as he swam away. The others trailed behind.

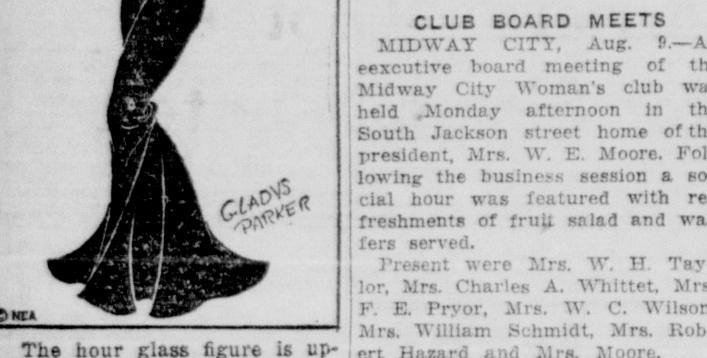

Soon Scouty cried, "It's tall is caught between the rocks. I think we ought to move the monstrous rocks apart. That really would be kind."

"You bet it would," said Shrimpy. "Gee, you lads are kind as you can be. Just push one rock. 'Twill be enough to let the tall come out."

The Tinyties pushed and panted. They were bound to move the rock away. Said Scouty, "When the shark is free, 'twill be our friend, no doubt."

Lyon President Of New Board Of Education

DELAY ACTION ON PLACENTIA SCHOOL PLANS

PLACENTIA, Aug. 9.—LeRoy Lyon was elected president and Earl Mathis secretary of the new board of education of the Placentia Union school district at a reorganization meeting last night at the Bradford avenue school.

The meeting followed along legal lines, following an election 10 days ago, when the Placentia Union Grammar school district voted to withdraw from the Fullerton Union High school district and form a district of its own. The same members of the grammar school board remain in office. Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of public instruction, presided at the reorganization session.

The board was instructed that no formal action could be taken toward preparing for the new school until the case is cleared of the injunction filed at Santa Ana by residents of the Richfield district, the case to be heard in Judge Scovell's court August 18.

Following reorganization a group of architects spent five minutes each presenting plans for a new high school. No action was taken. Although the suggestion of Frank Essert, new superintendent of schools, was approved, no formal action was taken regarding qualifications for high school teachers. His suggestion was that none be accepted except those holding general secondary certificates and masters' degrees.

After considerable discussion, the question of teacher placement was held over until August 14, when the board will meet in adjourned session for grammar school placement.

SURPRISE SHOWER HELD IN LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Aug. 9.—When Mrs. Richard Jewett (Virginia Barris) entertained the members of the Beta Chi sorority Monday evening, the affair turned out to be a miscellaneous shower for Miss Winetta Pearson, of Fullerton, who is to become the bride of William Jewett, of Coalinga, formerly of Fullerton, early in September.

The shower was a surprise affair for Miss Pearson and the gifts were not presented to the honoree until after an evening of bridge and the refreshments had been served by the hostess. Pastel linens were used on the refreshment tables and crystalware was used, with summer flowers in hanging shades.

Prizes in the bridge games were awarded to Mrs. Irene Burgess, of Whittier, and Mrs. Thelma Wachtel, also of Whittier.

Present were Miss Julia Middleton, Miss Martha Iverson, Miss Marguerite Williams and Miss Geneva Miller, of La Habra; Mrs. Thelma Wachtel, Mrs. Ethel Sanford and Mrs. Dorothy Pickup, of Whittier, Miss Julia Jewett and Mrs. Mabel Snyder, of Fullerton, and Mrs. Irene Burgess of Telegraph, the honoree, and the hostess.

The Essex aviation display will be held at Hillman's Aerodrome, Romford, England, on Sept. 9th.

BREAKFAST HELD AT GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 9.—An out of doors breakfast was served by Mrs. Goldie Cornett in the yard of her home on Walnut avenue, Garden Grove, Tuesday morning. Sewing and bridge occupied the guests during the day. Late in the afternoon Mrs. Cornett served coffee and cake.

The guests included Mrs. Pearl Laub, Mrs. Ivy Stephenson, Mrs. Naomi Manderschield, Mrs. Lenora Farmer, Mrs. Tillie Manderschield, Mrs. Bess Simmons and Mrs. Clara Blackwell, all of Santa Ana; Mrs. Marrianna Johnson and Miss Trena Johnson, of Buena Park; Mrs. Mary Blyholder and the hostess, Mrs. Cornett, of Garden Grove.

MESA POST OF LEGION ELECTS IN SEPTEMBER

COSTA MESA, Aug. 9.—Emmett Allen, Leroy Anderson and Bill St. Clair were nominated for the position of commander of the local American Legion post at Tuesday night's meeting. Others nominated were: First vice commander, Bill Alvord and Glen Cramer; second vice commander, Lloyd Crammer; chaplain, Ray Shannon; sergeant-at-arms, Bill Hixson, R. M. Day, and Ben Walker; historian, R. M. Day and Ray Shannon. Election of officers will be held at the first meeting in September.

Leroy Anderson, J. C. Payne and Robert R. Jones were named as delegates to the state convention at Pasadena. Alternates named were John Wilcox, Andrew Mandery and Ray Shannon. A motion was made and carried that the delegates go to the convention uninstructed as to voting for the meeting place for the next state convention.

J. C. Payne, who had attended a meeting for the fifth area at San Clemente recently, gave a detailed report on the meeting. Leroy Anderson spoke at length on recent changes and additions to the organization's by-laws. A letter was read from P. R. Kahler, a disabled veteran, who is ill at 1440 Meadowbrook avenue, Los Angeles. Kahler asked that those who can, write to him.

Rex Turner and Frank Cox, members of the Newport Beach post, were visitors.

EDWARD GRIMM OF PLACENTIA WEDS

PLACENTIA, Aug. 9.—Of interest to many Placentia and Fullerton people was the wedding Sunday of Edward Grimm to Miss Helen Evans Crowe, of Walteria, Calif.

The bridegroom was a student at the Fullerton District Junior college last year and resided at Placentia with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Grimm. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Crowe, of Walteria.

The ceremony was read by the Elder Arthur Burrows of the Church of the Latter Day Saints at Walteria before a group of friends and relatives.

The young couple will reside at Torrance.

COMMISSION TO VOTE ON PARK PROJECT SOON

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 9.—At the August meeting of the State Park board, to be held in Long Beach on or about the 15th of the month, the question of extending the state park into Seal Beach so as to include the ocean frontage east of the entrance to Alimitos bay is expected to be decided. The land proposed for the ocean includes the strip from the ocean to Ocean avenue and extending into Seal Beach as far as Eighth street. It is understood that the members of the park board are in favor of the proposition.

A meeting with officials of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation is scheduled for this week. The members of the park board hope to arrive at some satisfactory agreement whereby the land owned by the corporation is leased to the state for a nominal sum, probably $1 per year so that the state can regulate operations on the strip. The problem of changing the manner of disposal of the condenser cooling water will also be discussed. At present the water is allowed to run into the ocean on the east side of the flood control jetty at the entrance to the bay. The outward current of the water prevents any possible accretions of sand behind the jetty which would enlarge the beach at that point. It is believed that arrangements can be made with the flood control district to assist in making the change for the disposal of the water.

Commissioner P. E. Hatch has issued the following statement: "The policy of the State Park commission is that every dollar expended by the state must be matched by money or equivalent land values from the communities which will directly benefit from the creation of the parks. The board has explained this to those urging creation of a state park in Seal Beach."

The proposed park in Orange county would be a part of the state park already created at Alamitos bay which includes approximately 6000 feet of frontage on the ocean and bay sides of the peninsula. The strip of land on the Orange county side which has been proposed for the park is about 1500 feet in length.

PROGRAM OFFERS LATEST RECORDS

The Sororite Shop has a policy of operating their business to always be first with the latest in women's ready to wear, according to store officials.

Many of the latest dance tunes heard for the first time over KREG, during the program entitled "Sororite Shop Syncopations," tomorrow's program at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, is an exception. KREG has a standing order with one of the largest record concerns for all their latest releases. In addition, each one of the programs of this store announces something new, and of interest to the women of Orange county.

SERENADERS WILL PLAY OLD TUNES

Each Wednesday a group of talented young men from Wilmington, known as the Twilight Serenaders, present a program of the old time melodies. This program is presented at 8:45 o'clock over KREG.

Included in their program for tonight are such favorites as, "In the Good Old Summer Time," "When You Were a Tulip and I Wore a Big Red Rose," "Underneath the Mellow Moon" and many others. If you have any special number you would like to hear drop the boys a line; they will be glad to play and sing it for you on their following programs, studio officials said.

KREG NOTES

Tonight at 7:45 KREG presents another program of "The People Who Make News." The program this evening discusses several very well known men such as Henry Ford, Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, David Stern, publisher of the Philadelphia Record, known as the administration's "hair shirt"; and many others.

Between 6 and 6:30 o'clock this evening KREG will offer an ideal dinner program of selected classics, presenting some of the world's finest music, played by famous artists and orchestras.

Fishermen of this district will be glad to know that KREG has just renewed its yearly contract with Newport and Balboa for the broadcasting of authentic fishing information. This news is broadcast every night, except Sunday, following the late news period at 6:30 o'clock. The information broadcast is phoned to the station daily, direct from the Newport pier.

Clyde Musgrave and his music will be on the air twice this evening, once at 8 and again at 10 o'clock. This program is broadcast direct from one of Santa Ana's leading cafes, where many people dance and dine each evening.

THE CRISIS IN CUBA

A crisis has arisen in Cuba in which President Machado refuses to abdicate his office, and defies the supposedly good offices of the United States in suggesting that he do so.

President Machado was elected to that office in the fall of 1924, as the candidate of the Liberal party. He agreed at that time that he would serve only four years. But at the expiration of his term, he used methods to put down opposition and to gain re-election that caused many to maintain that the whole procedure was illegal, and in fact in this position they had the support of some of the courts of Cuba. His position, hence, at the head of the Cuban government amounts to that of a dictator.

In the permanent treaty of 1903 between this country and Cuba, there is a provision known as the "Platt amendment," which provides that the United States has the right to intervene in Cuba for the "maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty." For a long time there has been a growing sentiment against the Machado dictatorship and organization on his part, and restrictions provided that have tended to arouse the people to a constantly greater degree.

When Machado took office in 1924, Cuba was suffering severely from the effects of world-wide over-production of sugar. The new President endeavored to correct the difficulty by reducing the production of sugar and by inaugurating a protective tariff policy designed to increase local agricultural production. In this, according to the trade information bulletin of our own Department of Commerce, he had some success.

Following this tariff law, he inaugurated a public works program, among which was the construction of a 700 mile central railway. When he was laying plans for his re-election and practical dictatorship, he declared against the payment of foreign loans, from which position he receded immediately after he thought himself solidly in office.

The Chase National Bank of New York, two years later, loaned the government $10,000,000 and took as security a first lien on 90 per cent of the revenues from the public works fund, the government agreeing to pay for these by 1931. Later this was changed by the Chase National Bank into a revolving credit of $60,000,000, which was made available to Machado's government at 5½ per cent interest.

Under this agreement, this bank sold to the people of this country, on behalf of the government, work certificates in the amount of $20,000,000. The bank advanced its own funds, totaling $37,000,000, against certificates of the Cuban government. These were to be repaid by the Cuban government between 1932 and 1935.

Later, as late as February, 1930, finding it impossible to meet the payments and desiring further aid, the government made a third agreement, which provided for an issuance of public works bonds of $80,000,000, maturing in 1945. The bank agreed to purchase $40,000,000 of these, which cancelled the short term certificates it held.

In addition to all this, the Cuban government borrowed of J. P. Morgan nine million dollars, and Congress authorized the issuance of $42,000,000 in connection with the sugar plan, and the total bonded debt of Cuba on the first day of last January was more than $178,000,000. Besides this, there was something like $50,000,000 of floating indebtedness. This showed an increase in the indebtedness of Cuba, under Machado's reign, of $100,000,000.

With all this, Cuba's economic condition has steadily grown worse. Her exports fell from $434,000,000 in 1924 to $80,000,000 in 1932 and her imports showed a decline of from $290,000,000 to $51,000,000. Her government revenues dropped from $89,000,000 to $47,000,000.

Cuba unfortunately, is practically a one-crop country. Under peculiar law passed in 1930, whereby producers of sugar received government bonds for each bag of surplus sugar, the American banks which had loaned money to sugar men, finally received government obligations. As late as last year, the government was forced to borrow some additional money from the Chase bank, and over this question of getting these loans from America there have been violent differences on the island, some people contending that Machado was putting himself under obligations to the United States, and that the attempt to constantly get new borrowings, when the people were on the verge of starvation, was ruinous to the country.

There have been uprisings within the past two years, the first of which was put down by the army of Cuba of 12,000 men, but which has sporadically continued, through the activity of student groups, and finally a secret organization known as the "A. B. C." This organization has been carrying on finally a program of assassination in order to rid themselves of Machado. Many of the Cuban "patriots" are under the ban of the government and have sought political refuge in this country, many of them in Miami, Florida.

The Liberals, who first elected Machado, have now deserted him, and of course with the condition of the country as it is now, in turmoil and uprising, the government of the United States, under this Platt amendment, has a legal right to intervene and insists that Machado shall resign. It is very probable that the financial interests that have these big loans in Cuba realize that their hope of collection of this debt, or any considerable portion of it, is gone, except with the change of government in that unhappy island. In this program, therefore, the government undoubtedly has the support, if not the leadership, of the banks and bankers in its attitude on Machado.

Machado has just defied the government of the United States and has made an appeal to the Latin countries to express an opinion. It is extremely unlikely that any of these countries will join in to support an impossible situation in Cuba.

The whole condition emphasizes the close relationship, again, between the finances, the loans, the banks of the United States, and the revolutions which occur in these countries. We wonder if it would not be possible for a prohibition to be placed upon securities of the nature that the Chase National Bank obtained from the Cuban government, except that they have been OK'd officially by our own government.

They are finally bound to involve the government itself, in the consequent attempt to enforce collection, and if our government must be involved in it, let it be a party in the beginning. Private parties should not be permitted to take such action as would logically and necessarily lead us into such conflict, and it may be entirely possible that if Machado had not had the privilege of these large funds, his government would have been humbler and at least more peaceful and in harmony with his people.

The little town of Tiskiwiwa, Ill., has a minister who has gained fame as a magician. Just the sort of man any church needs these days to raise money to pay off its debts.

NEWSPAPER "PULLING POWER"

The depression appears to have taught American business men that the newspaper advertisement is the most effective means of conveying the merchant's message to the consumers. Recent figures compiled by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association show that in 1932 newspapers received fifty-nine per cent of the total advertising appropriations of 432 national advertisers and constituted the preferred advertising medium of nineteen of the principal trade groups in the United States.

The newspaper got eighty-two per cent of the automobile advertisements, seventy-four per cent of the gasoline advertisements; ninety-two per cent of the advertising of the railroad, and eighty-seven per cent of the shoe and clothing advertisements. These figures show that newspaper advertising has stood the test of the depression, which has shown that the newspaper has "pulling power."

A SHORTAGE OF CENTS

We suggested some time ago that it might be wise to make a smaller coin than a penny, in order to pay the proportion of the sales tax.

We note that the San Francisco Federal Reserve bank has just sent a million more pennies down to Los Angeles, for use in the payment of the sales tax. There tends to be a shortage of cents—note the spelling.

Sport of Kings—Tool of Knaves Christian Science Monitor

There is something thrillingly beautiful and graceful about a race horse. Friends of these beautiful creatures have argued that justification of the race track lies in the fact that this type of horse has been brought to its peak by track requirements.

There have been a few examples upon which to base these arguments. There have been owners who lived up to the best traditions of the sport. But for every Man O' War and Gallant Fox there have been a thousand minor performers, the great army of horses referred to in the jargon of the track as "the ponies."

These include horses that support a horde of human parasites who gain a livelihood not by performances honestly coaxed from the runners, but by cruelties and inhuman treatment meted out to the loyal animals. It is a story that shocks and revolts, a sordid story of crooked jockeys, of worse than crooked trainers, or owners who care only for the few dollars to be gained by winning—or by losing.

Hand in hand with dishonesty goes cruelty and degradation. Bits of sponge thrust up nostrils so that laboring lungs may not get sufficient breath; tricks of riders who know how to make the most gallant effort count for naught, and—most loathsome of all—dope.

The latest scandal to break in the American racing world gives a glimpse of what goes on behind the track. Federal narcotic agents, when arresting seven men at a Chicago track, declare that they have evidence to show the doping of 200 horses in as many races over a period of eight months. Horse "doping" is a secret business.

Such a record should awaken nation-wide indignation. It should arouse in the most complacent individual a deep sense of disgust. Perhaps it may even cause the man who bets his two dollars on "the ponies" to stop and ponder. For, in the last analysis, it is through the pari-mutuel windows, and through the undercover bookmakers, that the money comes to torture and debauch the most beautiful creature that serves mankind.

Wiley Post's Lament Oakland Tribune

To successfully circumnavigate the globe by air would give most hardy souls interested in accomplishing that feat extraordinary satisfaction. But not Wiley Post, who piloted the Winnie Mae over the hazardous route for the second time. On his return to New York he expressed regret—he called it "dugout"—because his time, seven days and 19 hours, had not cut down by a greater margin the time required on his previous trip with Harold Gatty.

In view of the difficulties Post encountered, it would have been an achievement if he had only matched the previous record. But Post, who at one stage of the flight was 16 hours ahead of the previous time for the same distance, had set out to establish a record that would defy others to better. He believes that the trip could be made in four-and-a-half days.

Another disappointment of the plucky aviator was his inability to enjoy the scenery. With only three hours of good weather on the entire trip, he had no opportunity to sit back and combine sightseeing with the attempt to set a new speed mark.

Some day Post's time for the round-the-world flight will be bettered. Indeed, Post himself may even lower it. But it is likely that enjoyment of the scenery must be reserved for those who travel more leisurely.

CHILDHOOD'S MAGNA CHARTA

The code that the President has put to American industry is among other things, as I suggested yesterday, a new magna charta for childhood.

It is now possible to make the child's bill of rights reality instead of rhetoric.

We must remember, however, that the abolition of child labor is but the negative half of the task in hand.

When we release these children from the corroding school of child labor we must see to it that they are put and kept in the creative school of child learning.

It becomes important in the light of the President's leadership in the matter to recall the child's bill of rights which W. W. Carpenter drafted some years ago but which is still valid and today peculiarly pertinent.

Every American child has the right:

1. To attend school every day during the school term and go to school the same number of days in the year as every other child.

2. To be taught by a trained teacher.

3. To go to school in a building free from fire hazard.

4. To attend school in a building that is located in a healthful environment, a building that is scientifically built and equipped,

Our Children

HELPING HIMSELF

"Goodbye, Bill. Aunt May and Uncle Arthur will look after you until I get back. Jack will play with you and you will have a good time, I know. Be a good boy and I'll be back as soon as I can and bring Daddy."

Bill waved a cheerful goodbye. This place in the country looked good to him. There seemed to be plenty to eat, there were lots of things to play with such as stones and brooks and walls that let you jump off them, and animals that seemed friendly. He would stay until mother came back.

Things went pretty well until the morning. Bill opened his eyes and saw Jack fastening his garters and he jumped out of bed and began pulling off his night clothes and shouting, "ma, ma, ma-a-a-a."

"What do you want, Bill? Your mother went away. What do you want her for?"

"Who's going to dress me?"

"Yourself. Who do you think I dress myself. Whoever heard of anybody dressing anybody? Go on. Shut up and put your clothes on so we can get down to breakfast. The pancakes will be all cold."

"I can."

"Yes you can. You get into things and I'll help with the buttons this morning. You can button your own self if you try. Come on. Hurry up. Gee, you ought to wear zippers like the babies. Now don't go holtering to everybody that you can't dress yourself or they'll kid you to death and you'll never hear the end of it. The fellows would die laughing at you."

Poor Bill found many things that he could not do that day. He wanted somebody to put on his coat for him. His shoelaces came undone and he went about putting up his foot to all he met in the hope that the knots might be untied again so they would stay. Only the fear that he would be laughed out of face and the lure of the fun he was having on the swing and in the hayfield kept him from breaking down completely and howling for his mother.

THE CRISIS IN CUBA

A crisis has arisen in Cuba in which President Machado refuses to abdicate his office, and defies the supposedly good offices of the United States in suggesting that he do so.

President Machado was elected to that office in the fall of 1924, as the candidate of the Liberal party. He agreed at that time that he would serve only four years. But at the expiration of his term, he used methods to put down opposition and to gain re-election that caused many to maintain that the whole procedure was illegal, and in fact in this position they had the support of some of the courts of Cuba. His position, hence, at the head of the Cuban government amounts to that of a dictator.

In the permanent treaty of 1903 between this country and Cuba, there is a provision known as the "Platt amendment," which provides that the United States has the right to intervene in Cuba for the "maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty." For a long time there has been a growing sentiment against the Machado dictatorship and organization on his part, and restrictions provided that have tended to arouse the people to a constantly greater degree.

When Machado took office in 1924, Cuba was suffering severely from the effects of world-wide over-production of sugar. The new President endeavored to correct the difficulty by reducing the production of sugar and by inaugurating a protective tariff policy designed to increase local agricultural production. In this, according to the trade information bulletin of our own Department of Commerce, he had some success.

Following this tariff law, he inaugurated a public works program, among which was the construction of a 700 mile central railway. When he was laying plans for his re-election and practical dictatorship, he declared against the payment of foreign loans, from which position he receded immediately after he thought himself solidly in office.

The Chase National Bank of New York, two years later, loaned the government $10,000,000 and took as security a first lien on 90 per cent of the revenues from the public works fund, the government agreeing to pay for these by 1931. Later this was changed by the Chase National Bank into a revolving credit of $60,000,000, which was made available to Machado's government at 5½ per cent interest.

Under this agreement, this bank sold to the people of this country, on behalf of the government, work certificates in the amount of $20,000,000. The bank advanced its own funds, totaling $37,000,000, against certificates of the Cuban government. These were to be repaid by the Cuban government between 1932 and 1935.

Later, as late as February, 1930, finding it impossible to meet the payments and desiring further aid, the government made a third agreement, which provided for an issuance of public works bonds of $80,000,000, maturing in 1945. The bank agreed to purchase $40,000,000 of these, which cancelled the short term certificates it held.

In addition to all this, the Cuban government borrowed of J. P. Morgan nine million dollars, and Congress authorized the issuance of $42,000,000 in connection with the sugar plan, and the total bonded debt of Cuba on the first day of last January was more than $178,000,000. Besides this, there was something like $50,000,000 of floating indebtedness. This showed an increase in the indebtedness of Cuba, under Machado's reign, of $100,000,000.

With all this, Cuba's economic condition has steadily grown worse. Her exports fell from $434,000,000 in 1924 to $80,000,000 in 1932 and her imports showed a decline of from $290,000,000 to $51,000,000. Her government revenues dropped from $89,000,000 to $47,000,000.
